“ Renier takes the hassle out of the construction process ...they make it easy.

Renier is one of the few design-builders of their size that is willing to travel.

They have worked with us for the past 15 years, completing multiple projects every year. After the first three or four years, they knew our buildings better than we did. It is almost like they work for Dayton Freight.

The best part is that I am assured of getting the same high quality with every job, and I can't imagine there is anyone better with the details.

I hope they know how much we appreciate the work they do for us. ”
